

Transformation Management

Towards the Integral Enterprise

RONNIE LESSEM AND
ALEXANDER SCHIEFFER

GOWER

Contents

List of Figures		ix
Prologue		xi
PART 1	INTRODUCTION: THE FUNDAMENTALS OF TRANSFORMATION MANAGEMENT
Chapter 1	Management and Transformation	3
	1.1 Introduction: Transforming the Enterprise in Society	3
	1.2 Revisiting Nature: A Transformational Perspective	5
	1.3 Revisiting Culture: A Transcultural Perspective	6
	1.4 Revisiting Science: A Transdisciplinary Perspective	7
	1.5 Revisiting Management: A Transpersonal Perspective	9
	1.6 Towards New Forms of Enterprise in Society	13
	1.7 Conclusion: Transformation (of) Management	17
	References	20
Chapter 2	The Four Fundamentals Of Transformation Management	23
	2.1 Introduction: The Four Fundamentals	23
	2.2 Transformational Flows: Nature and Community	26
	2.3 Transcultural Forces: Culture and Spirituality	30
	2.4 Transdisciplinary Fields: Science and Technology	35
	2.5 Transpersonal Functions: Economics and Management	37
	2.6 Developing a New Form of Public-Private-Civic Enterprise	39
	2.7 Conclusion: Towards the Integral Enterprise	40
	References	43
PART 2	THE FIRST FUNDAMENTAL OF TRANSFORMATION MANAGEMENT
Chapter 3	Nature and Transformation	47
	3.1 Introduction: Starting with Nature	47
	3.2 Origins of Strategy	49
	3.3 Strategy to Ecology	49
	3.4 The GENE: Grounding to Effect	56
	3.5 Institutionalizing Strategic Renewal through the Transformational Ecosystem	64
	3.6 Conclusion: Towards Strategic Renewal	67
	References	68

Chapter 4	Strategic Renewal	69
	4.1 Introduction: A Conventional Understanding of Business and Strategy	69
	4.2 The Nature of Strategy	73
	4.3 Conclusion: The Necessary Revolution	83
	References	85
Chapter 5	Self, Organizational and Societal Renewal	87
	5.1 Introduction: Engaging in Transformational Cycles of Ongoing Renewal	87
	5.2 Life Cycles of Living Systems	89
	5.3 The Transformation Journey of Self, Organization and Society	97
	5.4 Conclusion: Self, Organizational and Societal Transformation	109
	References	110
PART 3	THE SECOND FUNDAMENTAL OF TRANSFORMATION MANAGEMENT
Chapter 6	Culture and Transformation	113
	6.1 Introduction: From Clash of Civilizations to Co-Creation of Cultures	113
	6.2 Towards a Transcultural Orientation	114
	6.3 No Fundamental Transformation without Engaging with Culture	123
	6.4 The Four Worlds as a Model for Transcultural Differentiation	126
	6.5 Conclusion: Cultural Differentiation and Integration	127
	References	128
Chapter 7	Cultural Dynamics	131
	7.1 Introduction: Organizational Culture to Cultural Dynamics	131
	7.2 Local Cultural Forces	131
	7.3 Relevance of Cultural Forces for Society, Organization and Self	140
	7.4 From Local Cultural Forces to Transcultural Dynamics	143
	7.5 Conclusion: Towards Transcultural Learning and Co-Creation	145
	References	147
Chapter 8	Transcultural Learning and Co-creation	149
	8.1 Introduction: Why Transcultural?	149
	8.2 Transcultural Co-Creation	150
	8.3 Transcultural Learning	153
	8.4 Cycles of Learning and Co-creation	156
	8.5 Conclusion: From Local Identity to Global Integrity	158
	References	160
PART 4	THE THIRD FUNDAMENTAL OF TRANSFORMATION MANAGEMENT

Chapter 9	Science and Transformation	163
	9.1 Introduction: From Transcultural to Transdisciplinary	163
	9.2 Recreating Universities, Business Schools and Management Education	165
	9.3 Recreating the Social Sciences	170
	9.4 Towards a Transdisciplinary Enterprise: The Case of Mondragon	178
	9.5 Conclusion: From Social Science to Integral Research	181
	References	181
Chapter 10	Research to Innovation	183
	10.1 Introduction: Transformative Research	183
	10.2 The Evolution of Action Research	185
	10.3 The Southern Relational Path towards Community Building	190
	10.4 The Eastern Path of Renewal towards Conscious Evolution	192
	10.5 The Northern Path of Reason towards Knowledge Creation	195
	10.6 The Western Path of Realization towards Sustainable Development	197
	10.7 Conclusion: Research and Social Innovation	199
	References	200
PART 5	THE FOURTH FUNDAMENTAL OF TRANSFORMATION MANAGEMENT
Chapter 11	Management and Transformation	203
	11.1 Introduction: Overview of the Four Core Functions of the Enterprise	203
	11.2 Marketing: The Southern Function of the Conventional Enterprise	206
	11.3 Human Resource Management: The Eastern Function of the Conventional Enterprise	209
	11.4 Operations Management: The Northern Function of the Conventional Enterprise	214
	11.5 Financial Management: The Western Function of the Conventional Enterprise	219
	11.6 Conclusion: Towards the Transformation of the Functions of the Enterprise	223
	References	226
Chapter 12	Transforming Marketing into Community Building	229
	12.1 Introduction: Transforming the Southern Function	229
	12.2 Southern Formative Grounding: Reciprocity and Exchange	231
	12.3 Southern Reformative Emergence: Justice and Reconciliation	234
	12.4 Southern Normative Navigation: Social Business	236
	12.5 Southern Transformative Effect: Workplace Democracy and the Case of Cashbuild in South Africa	238

	12.6 Conclusion: Towards Community Building	242
	References	244
Chapter 13	Transforming Human Resources into Conscious Evolution	245
	13.1 Introduction: Transforming the Eastern Function	245
	13.2 Eastern Formative Grounding: Spiritual Consciousness	247
	13.3 Eastern Reformative Emergence: Evolutionary Spiral	249
	13.4 Eastern Normative Navigation: Conscious Organization	251
	13.5 Eastern Transformative Effect: Co-Evolution and the Case of Canon in Japan	253
	13.6 Conclusion: Towards Conscious Evolution	257
	References	260
Chapter 14	Transforming Operations into Knowledge Creation	261
	14.1 Introduction: Transforming the Northern Function	261
	14.2 Northern Formative Grounding: The Open Society	263
	14.3 Northern Reformative Emergence: Communications Networks	264
	14.4 Northern Normative Navigation: Knowledge Creating Enterprise	266
	14.5 Northern Transformative Effect: Open Source and the Case of Linux in Finland	269
	14.6 Conclusion: Towards Knowledge Creation	274
	References	276
Chapter 15	Transforming Finance into Sustainable Development	277
	15.1 Introduction: Transforming the Western Function	277
	15.2 Western Formative Grounding: Life Instinct	281
	15.3 Western Reformative Emergence: Sustainable Abundance	282
	15.4 Western Normative Navigation: Restorative Economy	285
	15.5 Western Transformative Effect: Self-Organization and the Case of Visa in the USA	288
	15.6 Conclusion: Towards Sustainable Development	290
	References	293
PART 6	TRANSFORMATION MANAGEMENT
Chapter 16	Enterprise and Transformation	297
	16.1 Summing up: The Integral Enterprise in Theory	297
	16.2 Looking Forward: The Integral Enterprise in Practice	308
	16.3 Starting Your Journey: Making the Integral Enterprise Happen	321
	References	321
PART 7	EPILOGUE
	Epilogue	325
	Index	339

List of Figures

1.1	Overview framework of an Integral Enterprise	5
1.2	Types of enterprises in the societal arena of PPC partnerships	16
1.3	Refined overview framework of an Integral Enterprise	20
2.1	Four Worlds as a living framework for transformation	27
2.2	Transformation in nature	27
2.3	The first fundamental – activating transformational flows	28
2.4	(Wo)Mankind’s journey from south, to east, to north, to west	31
2.5	The second fundamental – activating transcultural forces	32
2.6	The second fundamental – examples of transcultural forces	34
2.7	The third fundamental – transdisciplinary fields (overview)	36
2.8	The Transformation Management model	41
3.1	Crucial sub-processes for transformation in natural systems	51
3.2	Transformation in nature	55
3.3	Transformation in nature – from caterpillar to butterfly	56
3.4	Applying the GENE	61
3.5	Transformation/innovation ecosystem	65
4.1	Competitive strategy to strategic renewal – new orientations to strategy	83
5.1	Releasing the GENE-ius of self, organization and society	96
6.1	Transformational topography	123
6.2	The contributions of the Four Worlds and the centre	126
7.1	Examples of cultural forces	132
8.1	Transcultural co-creation	151
8.2	Transforming the conventional wisdom of ‘think global, act local’	153
8.3	Learning modes and forms of consciousness	154
8.4	Transcultural learning	155
8.5	A cyclical perspective to learning and knowledge creation	158
9.1	Fundamentals of transformation within the transformational topography	164
9.2	The transformational topography of Mondragon Group (Spain)	179
10.1	Overview of the Integral Research model	189
11.1	The conventional functions of the enterprise	205
11.2	A simple operating system	216
11.3	The transformative trajectory of the functions of the enterprise	225
12.1	The transforming fourfold of the southern function	231
13.1	The transforming fourfold of the eastern function	248
13.2	Four types of Ba and the SECI spiral of Nonaka and Takeuchi	251
13.3	The conscious organization	252
14.1	The transforming fourfold of the northern function	263

14.2	The Hypertext Organization (according to Nonaka et al.)	268
15.1	The transforming fourfold of the western function	280
15.2	A Four World perspective on capital – towards integral capital	287
16.1	First fundamental – strategic renewal	300
16.2	Second fundamental – cultural dynamics	302
16.3	Third fundamental – integral innovation	303
16.4	Fourth fundamental – transformed functions	305
16.5	The Integral Enterprise – transforming CSR into society building	307
16.6	The Integral Enterprise – transformed positions	307
16.7	Fourfold Sekem	312
16.8	Broad's knowledge cycle	318
E.1	Constituencies of an Integral Society	328
E.2	Integral Enterprise in Integral Society	335