

Managing Group Risk Attitude

Ruth Murray-Webster and David Hillson

May 2008
190 pages
978-0-566-08787-5

244 x 172 mm
Hardback
$99.95

This book builds on the authors' previous title Understanding and Managing Risk Attitude but this time looks exclusively at the challenges of understanding and managing those attitudes adopted by groups of people when faced with making decisions that they perceive as risky and important.

The book makes the link between risk management and decision-making explicit, building on existing work from the economic and risk psychology schools but taking a pragmatic, practitioner-focused approach that is relevant to all decision-making groups in any situation.

The insights in Managing Group Risk Attitude are derived from the authors' own applied research. Details of the research methods and findings are included in the book in support of a practical model and steps to manage risk attitude using applied emotional literacy.

Ruth Murray-Webster and David Hillson have written a practical book for all decision-makers, supported by actual research by practitioners and underpinned by the seminal research of leading academics.

Contents

Preface; Foreword; Part One Understanding and Managing Risk Attitude - The State of Current Knowledge: Understanding risk attitude; What is a good decision?; Managing risk attitude. Part Two Group Risk Attitude in Action - From Theory to Practice: Drivers of group risk attitude; Exploring influences in group risk attitude; Implications for managing group risk attitude. Part Three Effective Group Decision-Making Through Managed Risk Attitude: Practical steps for managing group risk attitude; The journey continues - charting the way ahead. Appendices; Index.

About the Author

Ruth Murray-Webster MBA PMP MAPM MCQI MCIPD is an organizational change consultant, and Managing Partner of Lucidus Consulting Ltd. Ruth's primary interests and contributions to practice embrace the behavioural aspects of change management through projects and programmes including attitudes to and approaches to managing risk. Ruth is a Visiting Fellow of Cranfield University School of Management.

Dr David Hillson FRSA FAPM FIRM FCMI is an international risk management consultant, and Director of Risk Doctor & Partners. He is widely recognised as a leading thinker and practitioner in the risk field, and has made several innovative contributions to improving risk management. David is an active member of the Project Management Institute (PMI) and has received the PMI Distinguished Contribution Award.

www.gowerpublishing.com/isbn/9780566087875

GOWER

To order this book please visit www.gowerpublishing.com, or email orders@ashgate.com
A 10% discount applies to orders placed through www.gowerpublishing.com